It was a wonderful experience and a lifetime memorable trip that we had with Tripgix to Manali. We were traveling in the girls batch, and we were so safe that we didn't worried about our safety even for a second. The organizers were so faithful, helping, caring, supporting, and of course energetic and full of enthusiasm every time that we never felt bored on our way. All I can say about my experience is "We went there as strangers, but we came back as family." I wished if these days never end.
